FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Nostalgia and Noise Presents: Art & Food Fair

DALLAS, TEXAS- Nostalgia and Noise, a leader in the Dallas art and culture scene, is proud to announce its annual Art and Food Fair, scheduled on Saturday, November 15. This multisensory experience will take place at the Nostalgia and Noise studio in Dallas, surrounded by member installations, community-driven art projects, and collaborative culinary experiences.

The event will feature various activations, starting with local Dallas artist showcases highlighting community and food-inspired works. Attendees will then be invited to explore a community charcuterie display and curated food walk presented in collaboration with several Dallas food vendors, who will guide guests through tasting stations, activations, and demonstrations.

Live art will unfold across the space, including the creation of a large-scale painting by a Nostalgia & Noise studio artist, adding an energetic, in-the-moment component to the event. The celebration will conclude with an afterparty featuring DJ sets by Emerald, Rooney Toones, and other Dallas selectors, bringing the community together through sound, movement, and shared creative energy.

About Nostalgia & Noise

Nostalgia & Noise is a cutting-edge event series and community platform. By combining electrifying DJ sets with a showcase of local artistry, the collective aims to bring attention to iconic moments in time while providing guests with a unique and memorable experience. In this case, the Art & Food Fair offers a dynamic platform for Dallas artists, chefs, curators, and community members to gather, collaborate, and spark meaningful conversation.
